

A Future Built on Sustainability, Leadership & Service

---

Keith Mathews
CEO

At Southeastern Indiana REMC, we are committed to powering a brighter future—one that ensures reliable, affordable electricity for our members while adapting to the evolving energy landscape. As we celebrate Earth Day, Lineman Appreciation Day, and the 2025 Board of Directors Election, it's a great time to reflect on how our cooperative's commitment to sustainability, strong leadership, and dedicated service keeps our communities running.

Sustainability: A Balanced Energy Approach

When we talk about sustainability, we mean ensuring a stable, resilient power supply for our members today and into the future. As a distribution cooperative, our role is to maintain and strengthen the infrastructure that delivers electricity safely and reliably to homes and businesses. We work closely with Hoosier Energy, our wholesale power provider, which is responsible for generating and securing electricity from a diverse mix of energy sources—including natural gas, coal, solar, wind, landfill gas, and hydro.

At SEI REMC, we support an all-of-the-above energy strategy, recognizing that a balanced mix of energy sources is essential to keeping power affordable and reliable. We also help members improve energy efficiency through rebates, home energy monitoring tools, and demand response programs, empowering them to use energy wisely while managing costs.

Leadership: Your Vote, Your Voice

Strong leadership ensures that SEI REMC continues making decisions that serve the best interests of our members. As a member-owned, not-for-profit cooperative, we are governed by a Board of Directors elected by you, our members. These directors help guide important decisions about rates, infrastructure improvements, and service reliability.

Beginning April 16, members will have the opportunity to vote in the 2025 Board of Directors Election. Your vote helps ensure that SEI REMC remains a financially strong, well-managed cooperative that continues providing safe, affordable, and reliable electricity for years to come.

We encourage every member to take part in this election. Your voice matters, and your vote helps shape the future of SEI REMC.

Service: Honoring the Lineworkers Who Keep the Lights On

Electricity is something we often take for granted—until a storm or outage reminds us just how vital it is to our daily lives. That's where our Operations Department and lineworkers come in. Their work ensures that no matter the conditions, power is delivered safely and restored quickly when needed.

These highly skilled professionals work year-round, in all weather conditions, to maintain power lines, upgrade equipment, and respond to emergencies. Their dedication and expertise are the foundation of our commitment to service and reliability.

This Lineman Appreciation Day, we encourage our members to join us in thanking the men and women who keep our communities powered. Their service and commitment are essential to everything we do.

Looking Ahead

At SEI REMC, we believe that a strong future depends on sustainability, leadership, and service. Whether it's investing in system upgrades, empowering members with energy-saving programs, or ensuring strong cooperative leadership, we remain committed to serving you.

Thank you for being an engaged and active member of Southeastern Indiana REMC. Together, we are powering a future built on reliability, leadership, and service.

---

Keith Mathews
CEO, Southeastern Indiana REMC

Do you have a question for the CEO?

SUBMIT YOUR QUESTION